

Engineering Intern (Summer)
April 2018

Description

HemoSonics, LLC is seeking an Engineering Intern this summer to assist in the design and development of in vitro medical diagnostic devices.

The successful candidate will thrive in a small company environment and have a desire to both learn from and contribute to the team. This position receives direction from the VP of R&D.

Key Responsibilities:

- Work on product improvement projects related to reliability and manufacturability of in vitro medical diagnostic devices.
- Develop and execute test plans for product design changes.
- Support system verification and validation testing activities.
- Identifies potential vendors for components.

Knowledge and Skills:

- Proficient in Microsoft Office applications
- Excellent writing skills, organization, and attention to detail
- Ability to work independently or on a team

Education and Experience Required:

Junior or senior engineering major (biomedical or mechanical preferred)

The position is based in Durham, NC. Successful applicants must be eligible to work in the US. This position is not eligible for immigration sponsorship.

To apply, please email your cover letter and resume to: careers@hemosonics.com

HemoSonics, LLC is an equal opportunity employer. All applicants will be considered for employment regardless of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, veteran or disability status.